Re: British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority – British Columbia Utilities Commission Inquiry Respecting Site C – Project No. 1598922

On August 31, 2017, the British Columbia Utilities Commission (BCUC, Commission) issued a letter providing detailed information on the Community Input Sessions it will be hosting around the province between September 23 and October 11, 2017. In its letter, the Commission also stated that it would be contacting organizations and individuals whom, based on their submissions filed, the Panel would like to invite to make technical presentations.

The Technical Presentation Sessions will be held in Vancouver on October 13th and October 14th. A current list of the parties who are invited to present at each session will be available for viewing on the BCUC’s Site C Inquiry website on Monday, October 2, 2017 at www.siteinquiry.com. This list will be updated in advance of the Technical Presentation Sessions should there be any changes.

Members of the public are welcome to attend the Technical Presentation Sessions; however, presentation spots are available and pre-arranged only for the invited speakers. Registration is not required for members of the public to observe the Technical Presentation Sessions; space will be provided on a first come first served basis. For those not able to attend in person, the sessions will be live audio streamed via the BCUC’s Site C Inquiry website at www.siteinquiry.com.
