We would be the ones selling the actual units to end users, businesses etc so we play a key role. My colleague David Shcolsberg has a lot of experience he will be the one contributing this matter.

Please list the key issues you intend to address in the proceeding:

*Whether charging stations should be regulated and if so how they should be regulated. *Look at is where there is a need for more stations and how municipalities can work to get the infrastructure. *Issue that we see is that there's elements of the charging station market that are competitive and we need to take a look at whether it's efficient for us to be regulating
