I'll keep this short and to the point. ICBC is a monopoly. Our rates have gone up astronomically over the years and continue to sky rocket. This latest increase is a prime example. If ICBC wants to continue to raise rates, then consumers should be given the option of using PRIVATE insurance companies for ALL of their auto insurance needs. As it currently stands, if you want to drive in BC you are at the mercy of ICBC. ICBC has admitted to being poorly run. Consumers can't keep forking over cash to a poorly run monopoly. So if rates are going to rise, at least allow the private sector insurance companies to compete and offer consumers an alternative.
