

Dear Commission Secretary,

I am writing to express my support for Net Metering and my opposition to BC Hydro's application to Amend Net Metering Service (Project No. 1599004).

Over the past 15 years, thanks to Net Metering rates and engaged citizens working to shape the energy grid of the future, communities and individuals have invested their time and savings to create local solar installations across B.C.

Net Metering enables new sources of clean power, creates jobs, adds resiliency to our grid and proves that distributed power generation can work.

Our Net Metering community is growing and organized. We will not stand by and allow BC Hydro to roll back our potential to grow and share clean solar power. As a regulator mandated to protect the public interest, please reject the punitive sizing restrictions and rate reductions proposed by BC Hydro's amendment application, and ensure that the broader community is consulted about the future of our shared clean energy grid.

Dear SIR /Madam It is time to reduce carbon print and monopoly of the big polluters, they only care for their profit at any cost of destruction to the environment. Solar power is clean energy the people of the great province of British Columbia have taken this responsibility to accelerate in reduction in carbon foot print ,therefore government should indorse such fundamental interest to save the mother Earth from being destroy by polluters who create Dams, coal burning, fossil fuel. How ever net metering had made this possible to achieve that goal our main objective to reduce carbon foot print .I have solar power and which allowed me to park my gas guzzler truck and I now drive total electric power car .I have encouraged more than dozen people to buy electric cars instead gas and which they all drive Ev cars today. Thank you Ranbir Dhillon

Sincerely,

Ranbir Dhillon
