Re: BC Utilities Commission Inquiry into Site C Dam Options and Implications

Thank you for so promptly honouring your campaign promise to direct the BC Utilities Commission (BCUC) to examine the implications of continuing to build, or to suspend, or to terminate construction of the proposed hydro electric dam at "Site C" on the Peace River.

To ensure this inquiry is transparent and to ensure all information and analysis is thoroughly and publicly examined, I strongly urge that:

- All BC Hydro information concerning Site C be available to the public prior to the first phase submission deadline; this requires an extension of that deadline;
- The BCUC hold public hearings;
- The public hearings include cross-examination.

I also request you direct an investigation of the impact of any possible termination of any construction workers currently employed on the project. Specifically, how many people are actually employed and working full time as of August 30 in construction on the site on contracts that extend for six months or more?

Thank you for your attention to these concerns.

Sincerely,

J Cameron Beck
