Dear British Columbia Utilities Commission,

BC Hydro needs to create incentives for using renewables throughout the grid, like panels on every home. Agricultural land is a finite resource, and climate change is making it even more valuable as ecosystems shift (California desertified). Site C is largely viewed as clean energy for dirty fuel, helping extract Albertas tar sands. Site C is 20th century - lets scrap it and develop energy systems suited to the new reality.

Sincerely,
Pierre Friele
