Dear British Columbia Utilities Commission,

I urge you to carefully consider the impact any decisions or actions regarding this issue will have. It is not a worthwhile project. Renewable energy sources are becoming cheaper, let's create jobs with that technology instead.

To continue with Site C would mean displacing people from their traditional lands and flooding rich farmland. All of this should have been considered before the project started.

I voted for a government that would take a closer look at this project.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Susan Russell
